TERRY JUDE MILLER ~ PROGRAM SPEAKER FOR MAY

Program Committee Chair JDarrell Kirkley introduced our program speaker, Terry Jude Miller, of Richmond, who was also present via Zoom, Miller won the 2018 Catherine Case Lubbe Manuscript Award for his book, The Drawn Cat’s Dream. He has several other published books, and is a member of the Academy of American Poets, as well as Poets Northwest (Houston). He is the originator of the Texas Poets Podcasts. He thanked Patrick Marshall for editing his book. He then read several poems from it, with dialogue between. Susan Maxwell Campbell also showed accompanying slides in the background.

Minutes of the General meeting of the Poetry Society of Texas for Saturday, May 9, 2020 at 2:30 p.m. via Zoom by Barbara Blanks, Recording Secretary

President Irene Robertson opened this historic meeting by welcoming everyone from across the state—from Houston to Fort Worth, from Tyler to Amarillo, and several places in between. The Covid-19 virus social distancing situation does not allow us to meet at the Preston Royal Library as usual (it is closed indefinitely), and thanks to Interim Director Susan Mardele who set up and moderated the Zoom meeting, we were able to welcome members who cannot normally attend.

Librarian Barbara Blanks announced two book donations to the PST collection at the Dallas Central Library: books listed on page 10.

Treasurer Steve Sanders gave a brief financial report for April. PST is still in good shape. The largest expenditure was for printing the new A Book of the Year.

He also reported that a Paypal account has been created for those who would like to pay PST dues electronically. Links have not yet been set up on the website, but if you have a Paypal account, you can go ahead and pay dues to poetrysocietyoftexas@gmail.com. Please be sure to note that the $25 is for dues. Also note that our membership year ends on June 30, and the new year begins on July 1. If you renew now, please also be sure to note that you are renewing for 2020-2021.

Steve also reported that the Summer Conference in Fort Worth has been cancelled. With the situation the way it is, and the uncertainty of whether enough people would register to make the conference economically feasible, and with the hotel deadline looming for a full deposit refund, it was unanimously decided to cancel. There is a possibility of a Zoom-type conference, but that is not definite at this time.

Director Domingo Rodriguez gave the April Membership Report for Membership Chair Lynn Lewis. That report can be seen on page 10.

Nominating Committee Chair Catherine L’Herisson explained the five-person nominating committee is appointed by the seated president. Traditionally, it consists of past presidents. This year, the other four committee members were: Marilyn Stacy, Jeannette Strother, Budd Powell Mahan, and Aman Khan. The committee first checks with the sitting board members to see if they wish to stay on. In this case, Interim Director Susan Mardele declined to remain in office right now. The nominating committee offered this slate of officers for the 2020-2021 Executive Board of PST: President: Irene Robertson; Vice President: Rich Weatherly; Treasurer: Steve Sanders; Recording Secretary: Barbara Blanks; Corresponding Secretary: Susan Maxwell Campbell; Director: JDarrell Kirkley; Director: Domingo Rodriguez; Director: Beth Honeycutt.

L’Herisson called for nominations from the floor (members present via Zoom). There were no nominations.

L’Herisson called for a motion to accept the new slate of officers as presented. Lynn Grice Roberts, Houston, moved to accept. Anne McCrady, Tyler, seconded. By show of hands of members present via Zoom, the new board was voted in. The current board serves through August 31, 2020. The new board seats on September 1, 2020.

Spotlight on Poets Chair Susan Maxwell Campbell introduced our Spotlight Poet, Jenna Pashley Smith, Richmond, former editor of A Book of the Year. Jenna had recorded a remote video reading, but the video was unable to play. Instead, because Jenna was present via Zoom, she read some of her poems live.

Contest Chair Rich Weatherly announced the winners of the May Monthly Contests. 17 Entries. There was no reading of the ten poems up for book prizes. Instead, Critic Judge Donovan ranked the top six.

To Barbara Blanks

On May 9, 2020 the Alabama State Poetry Society announced their Book of the Year Award, and the winning book was Resisting the Ground by our own Barbara Blanks.
Greetings, PST Leaders and Members,

I have been authorized by the President of PST to formally notify all of its members that the 2020 Summer Conference has been canceled.

This was not a step lightly taken but with the current circumstances created by the COVID-19 pandemic and the uncertainty about the future, the officers and Board of PST believe that this is in the best interest of the organization and its membership. The Radisson Hotel has been very understanding and has accepted our cancellation and agreed to return 100% of our initial deposit. PST will not lose a penny over this decision.

We are all very sad that this step was necessary, but the health and safety of our members take precedence in this situation. If even one person contracted the virus as a result of a conference that would be too many. In addition, we cannot be sure that the Radisson would have a full staff to meet our needs.

Please send this notification out to all PST members everywhere; the widest possible dissemination within the Society is requested. This is especially important if you are a chapter president, please forward this notice to all your members. If anyone has made hotel reservations, the Radisson has assured us that they can be canceled without penalty. If you have already registered for the Conference, please contact the Fort Worth Poetry Society for a refund.

BEAUMONT CHAPTER
Birma Castle Reporting for Barbara Powell

Time is flying, at a snail’s pace, yet, I don’t seem to get much done. I do appreciate and look forward to the daily digital devotionals from my church. Sunday mornings and Wednesday nights for a full church service give some normalcy to the “shelter-in-place” life. I have managed to write a couple of poems.

I missed the PST Zoom meeting, where I won the Naomi Simmons Book prize. Yea! Technology is a wonderful thing, once I get the kinks worked out, which I didn’t before the meeting.

My daughter, Vicki Lynn, brought my three great granddaughters 3, 5, and 7, to stand on sidewalk to throw kisses and all talk at the same time.

I owe it to my family to stay safe, so they won’t have to take care of me. So, I haven’t touched another human being since the shut down started. I had Mother’s Day Lunch with Vicki and husband Randy, their treat from Jason’s Deli. They arrived with chairs, table, and drinks to sit on porch outside storm door and enjoy being together, with me inside. They also put black metal plaques with Faith, Hope and Love on my patio fence. It is a good thing I cleaned the glass door, because Vicki and I shared a kiss on opposite sides. Her lip prints are still there. Special memories make good poems (someday).

Some of you keep up with Barbara Powell on Facebook and know that she had a fall at 4 a.m. and two firefighters came to help her up. She didn’t go to a doctor until Tuesday for a regular appointment. She felt she was all right, but her right leg has a large blood clot so she was admitted to the hospital. They are doing all sorts of testing and treatments to dissolve the clot. She enjoyed her son, his wife, granddaughter and grandson’s visit on Mother’s Day, but she is having a hard time now because she isn’t allowed family or friend’s visits. Solitude is really hard for her. She is in a regular room and is totally alone except when nurses and doctors do tests or treatments. Please pray for comfort. Just talked to Barbara today (5-14-20) and she may get to come home, with home health services.

Dorothy Clover has written some poems. Yea! She is pretty bored but she checks in from time to time. She is really disappointed that Lucidity and the Summer Conference have been cancelled. This would have been her first time to attend Lucidity. She is retired so doesn’t have to worry about school.

Laurie Kolp is making the most of her free time (if there is any). She still enters and wins prizes in different venues. She has worked so hard on her Master’s degree online and now she has to do everything for her School District position on line too. Congratulations, Laurie.

Sherry Morgan is busy going through her mother’s house, finding treasures at every turn. Many memories are still fresh, but there are so many wonderful things to reminisce and savor. She takes her time to enjoy them.

Doretta Dover had great grandbabies for her Mother’s Day guests. She checks in on me and reports her lifestyle of boredom. A stray cat has helped keep her days on track.

Lou Whitiker is doing better healthwise, and I am hoping she will write about some of the happier (funny) things about being sequestered.

Thanks to our Editor, Valerie Bailey, we still have a link with each other. Stay Safe! Birma.

DENTON POETS’ ASSEMBLY
Richard Weatherly Reporting

Due to COVID-19 protocols DPA will continue to use a virtual meeting format. Our April meeting using Zoom went well.

DPA will meet from 10 a.m. through 12 p.m. for the regular meeting.

The DPA nominating committee will present a new slate of officers for the coming year and members will vote on the candidates.

Read & Respond poetry assignments will be based on the works of Paul Celan.

After the assigned readings Susan Maxwell Campbell will present a writing activity related to the lesson.

Members will be given an opportunity to read free-choice poems after the 11 a.m. break.
FORT WORTH POETRY SOCIETY
Steve Sanders Reporting

For the second time, the Fort Worth Poetry Society met via Zoom and, again, it was a success! The May meeting is normally our social event but with the COVID-19 virus still lurking around, we decided to meet on-line again. Attending the meeting were: President Patricia Ferguson, Treasurer Mike Baldwin, Secretary Steve Sanders, Marilyn Gilbert Komechak, Susan Maxwell Campbell, and John Bartell. Our special guest was Heather Thompson.

The opening poems were read by President Ferguson, they were “The Apple Pie Doesn’t Call Far From the Tree,” an original by Patricia, and “Alone” by Edgar Allen Poe. After the preliminary minutes from the last meeting and Treasurer’s Report, we went right into old business. The main topic of discussion was the cancellation of the PST Summer Conference and the possibility of putting on some kind of virtual conference. We decided to meet again in one week and discuss proposals for a potential virtual conference and then present some kind of proposal to PST. We discussed everything from a simple series of Zoom/Facebook Live events to recorded presentations that we upload to the PST website for viewing at everyone’s leisure. A final proposal will be forthcoming.

The May meeting is also when we normally install a new slate of officers for the coming year. As a result of the disarray that the “shelter-in-place” orders have caused, our normal schedule has been interrupted. Instead, the Society voted to continue with the current officers and, once we are able to meet again, we will consider a new nomination/election process.

We honored our social tradition by conducting a “read around” rather than doing critiques. Everyone read at least two poems, either one of their own or one of their favorites. Following the second round of poetry, we adjourned until May 19th.

HI-PLAINS CHAPTER
Frances Ferris Reporting

The Hi-Plains chapter did not meet in April or May. We plan to have the meeting in June if at all possible.

HOT/LIVE POETS OF CENTRAL TEXAS
Christine Boldt Reporting

Christine says “No meetings and nothing to report.” But I envision these hot, lively poets, all sequestered in their homes, being obedient to the pandemic protocols, except no masks at home. I see them using their “shut-in’ time to write towering stacks of great poetry. Let’s all do that!

MOCKINGBIRD CHAPTER
John Alexander Reporting

MPS held its regular monthly meeting on May 2 as a virtual meeting. President Thomas Martin presided, and a total of sixteen members and one guest attended. The minutes from the April meeting were approved, and Treasurer Tarik Ahmen provided an update on the finances, including the checking and savings accounts balances.

PST President and Mockingbird member, Irene Robertson gave us a PST update:

- Last month’s meeting was canceled.
- A Book of the Year is completed. Thanks to all who helped.
- The May 9th meeting will be a Zoom meeting at 2:00 p.m., hosted by Susan Mardele (MPS member and PST Board member)
- Both the PST summer conference and the NFSPS summer convention are officially canceled.

A report on the Collin County Poetry Contest Awards and Wrap-up was given by Beth Ayers. Beth got the students’ home addresses and books and certificates were mailed to each winning student. There were three students whose addresses she should have soon. The anthology turned out well. It’s always rewarding to see pictures from the students with their awards. We discussed how we might encourage award recipients to send in photos showing them with their certificates.

A report on the Poetry Society Open Mic was given by Ann Marie Newman. She shared about the open mic Zoom event April 25th, 2-4 PM sponsored by Café Bohemia in Plano. As approved at the last meeting, MPS donated $30 to Café Bohemia and to support the virtual event. Members were invited to make individual contributions to support the event. About 15 participated as Susan Mardele hosted and acted as MC for the event. She did a wonderful job, and we all had a good time.

President Martin asked for new business. Based on the Governor’s shelter-in-place directive, Tarik wondered when the Mockingbirds would begin face-to-face meetings again. It will depend on when the Heard-Craig house reopens, and then when we are comfortable meeting again. Going forward, it would be nice to continue having a video component as part of the meeting. We could include a virtual link as a standard addition.

Member Sharing time:
• Domingo Rodriguez offers counseling for several different groups. It is very helpful, and he would be happy to share with anyone who just needs to talk or share.
• Ann Marie Newman shared that a slam poet, Michael Glenn, has produced an anthology of poems during the Covid-19 pandemic that includes two of Ann’s poems and also one of Beth Ayer’s poems.
• John Alexander shared that his new blog is still growing, and he’s seen people from as far away as Nigeria and South Africa visiting the site. (www.alexander-novels.com/blog.)

After the group’s business and sharing was completed, our visitor and members were invited to share a poetry reading. It’s always a pleasure to enjoy poetry from the group.

POETS NORTHWEST
Eric Blanchard Reporting
PNW had another meeting via Zoom in April due to the public-health protocols being observed in our communities.

We celebrated National Poetry Month by sharing poems by some of our favorite 20th and 21st century poets, including Wendell Berry, A.E. Stallings, Jane Hirshfield, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Linda Gregg, Mary Oliver, David Wagoner, John Sibley Williams, Billy Collins, and Mark Waldron.

PNW’s annual Spring Fling has been rescheduled for June 20th. Details are still being finalized. Stay tuned for updates.

If you plan to be in the Houston area on the third Saturday of the month, please join us at one of our monthly meetings at the Windwood Presbyterian Church, 10555 Spring Cypress Rd, Houston, TX 77070, Room 126, (except May and December and during Covid-19 protocols).

Members and guests are encouraged to read original or favorite works during the second half of the meeting. Our PST chapter is on the web at http://www.poetsnw.com, on Facebook at http://facebook.com, on Twitter as @HoustonPoets, and on Instagram as poetsnorthwest.

POETS OF TARRANT COUNTY
Lynn Lewis Reporting
The minutes for the May 4, 2020 Zoom meeting of the Poets of Tarrant County are as follows: The meeting was called to order by President Ron Eddins. Jerry Johnston presented new ideas for our chapter logo design, to be determined and voted on at a later date.

Masood Parvaize was the Spotlight Poet. Contemporary Poet Reader Barbara Goerdel read from the works of Lisa Toth Salinas.

Barbara Berry gave the Treasury Report. A motion was made by Susan Maxwell Campbell and seconded by Jerry Johnston for Poets of Tarrant County to make an extra donation to the Thomas Place Community Center. There were no objections.

President Eddins introduced our featured speaker, Susan Maxwell Campbell, who used the topic “Sharing with Others” to discuss different ways to share in the poetry experience.

After the member poetry read-around, the meeting was adjourned by President Eddins.

RUSK COUNTY POETRY SOCIETY
Janet Tyner Reporting
The Rusk County Poetry Society members have not met in person this spring, but they are communicating electronically by sharing poems through emails and texts.

Rusk County Poetry Society congratulates Olivia Donnelly as the 2020 winner of the Mary Craig Scholarship, which is sponsored by RCPS. Ms. Donnelly’s poem, “Breaking Even,” earned first place for 12th grade students in the 2020 North East Texas Poetry in Schools competition.
Awarding the $500 scholarship is an annual opportunity to help students develop their unique writing talents.

Ms. Donnelly’s poem, as well as winning poems from 1st-12th grade public, private, or homeschooled students from the Northeast Texas region, may be read online at yanetexas.org/north-east-texas-poetry.

SAN ANTONIO POETS ASSOCIATION
Valerie Martin Bailey Reporting

The San Antonio Poets Association met using Zoom on April 18. Ten members were able to get ready for this meeting by then. Those attending were: President Michaud L. Lamrouex, Valerie Martin Bailey, Clyta Coder, Bruce Davis, Sheila Tingley Moore, Paige Parker, Loretta and Wallace Vaughan, Antoinette Winstead, and Darrell Pittman.

We had a casual unscheduled meeting on May 14 just to hone our skills with Zoom. We enjoyed informal chatting and reading poetry for about two hours. It was very enjoyable.

Our May 16th meeting will also be a Zoom meeting at 1:00 p.m., with a waiting room set up at 12:00 noon.

At this meeting we will install our new officers, who are President: Sheila Tingley Moore, Vice President: Antoinette Winstead, Treasurer: Michaud L. Lamrouex, Recording Secretary: Valerie Martin Bailey, Corresponding Secretary: Clyta Coder. The Parliamentarian, Historian, and standing committee chairmen will be appointed by the President. We have never done an installation using Zoom, so we are treading new ground.

At this meeting, we will also announce SAPA’s Poet Laureate Awards for 2020-2021. For the 13th time The Poet Laureate is Valerie Martin Bailey and the Poet Laureate Emeritus for the second time is Sheila Tingley Moore. The Poet Laureate runners up are: Michaud L. Lamrouex ~ First Runner-up; Loretta Burns Vaughan ~ Second Runner-up; Clyta Coder ~ Third Runner-up. The Poetic Excellence Award once again goes to Sheila Tingley Moore.

Contest Chair Valerie Martin Bailey announced the winners of the April contests, which were judged by Barbara Goerdel of Arlington. We so appreciate Barbara for sharing her time and expertise with us.

Winners in the Assigned Topics contest were as follows: 1st place: Margaret Mayberry; 2nd place: Sheri Flowers Anderson; 3rd place: Sheila Moore; Honorable Mention: Pat Gibbs

Winners in the Poet’s Choice contest were: 1st place: Paige Parker; 2nd place: Patricia Gibbs; 3rd place: Loretta Vaughan; Honorable Mention: Clyta Coder.

Because we are in a virtual meeting it is impossible to award trophies, plaques, and certificates, but all these are being provided and will be presented to the winners at the first face-to-face meeting we are able to have, so rest assured all these winners will be appropriately rewarded as soon as possible.

Work on our anthology Inkwell Echoes has already begun and the cover has been designed. The Poet Laureate and Poet Laureate Emeritus may submit four poems to be published in the anthology. The Poet Laureate runners-up may submit three poems to the anthology, and all other members may submit two poems to the anthology.

One thing we do at our usual meetings that we all miss is our monthly book raffle. It will be so good to get back to having our meetings in the good old-fashioned way of direct human contact.

Some not so “Deep Thoughts” for the times:
1. Half of us are going to come out of this quarantine as amazing cooks. The other half will come out with a drinking problem.
2. I used to spin the toilet paper like I was on Wheel of Fortune. Now I turn it like I’m cracking a safe.
3. I need to practice social distancing from the refrigerator.
4. Still haven’t decided where to go for vacation— the Living Room or The Bedroom.
5. HINT: Every few days, try your jeans on just to make sure they fit. Pajamas will have you believing all is well in the kingdom.
6. Homeschooling is going well. 2 students suspended for fighting and 1 teacher fired for drinking on the job!
7. I don’t think anyone expected that when we changed the clocks we’d go from Standard Time to Twilight Zone.
8. This morning I saw a neighbor talking to her cat. It was obvious she thought her cat understood her. I came into the house, told my dog . . . we laughed a lot.
9. So, after this quarantine, will the producers of My 600 Pound life just find me or do I find them?
10. My body has absorbed so much soap and disinfectant lately that when I use the bathroom, it cleans the toilet.
